Headed out in an hour or so to survey glaciers in southeast Greenland. Mar 12, 2018, 2:46 AM

Well the crew has been busy so far!

The green lines show where they have collected radar data so far this year and the light blue shows where we still plan to get data. Inside each one of these lines we are measuring the height of the glaciers very accurately so we can see how they are changing right at the edge. Mar 11, 2018, 9:21 AM

Made it to Iceland! Will meet up with the crew to fly with them for the next few days. So far, they've made great progress on this year's glacier survey. More soon! Mar 10, 2018, 11:43 PM

We're back! OMG headed into the field again today to do our yearly survey of the glaciers. I'll be meeting up with the crew in Iceland early next week. Stay tuned for photos, videos and other news this week and next! Mar 6, 2018, 12:47 PM
